NEW ILLUSTRATED BOOK OF KIERKEGAARD

Released the 23rd of September 2013

It is one of the most beloved works of writer and philosopher Søren Kierkegaard (1813-1855) that is now available in a brand new modern Danish-illustrated edition, by the writer and philosopher Jens Staubrand.

In Repetition-Repetition, we meet the two literary figures Constantin Constantius and The young Man. In the book's first part examines the one literary figure, Constantin Constantius, if a repeat is possible and he does so by traveling to Berlin, where he has been before. In the first part we also meet The young Man who Constantin Constantius is trying to supervise in his relationship with a young girl.

The book's second part consists of a number of letters from The young Man to Constantin Constantius. The young man writes about his reading of the Book of Job, which is about suffering, verification and redemption.
